

JOURNAL OF APPALACHIAN STUDIES

Published by the
APPALACHIAN STUDIES ASSOCIATION with support from

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY

---

VOLUME 9, NUMBER 2
FALL 2003

---

CONTENTS

From the Editors.....269

Articles

Economic Progress in Appalachian Kentucky Communities
Eric A. Scorsone.....272

Growing Competitiveness in Appalachia: Strategic Science & Technology
Planning in West Virginia
Jay D. Gatrell and Frank J. Calzonetti .....293

“No Child Left Behind” in Poor, Appalachian School Districts: Confronting
Contextual Factors in the Modern World
Robert Bickel, Caitlin Howley, and A. Stan Maynard.....321

Literacy Choices in an Appalachian Community
Kim Donehower.....341

Teaching Notes

Telling Your Own Story: A Story Illumination Project
Angela DeBord.....363

Rethinking Appalachian Studies Series

Appalachian Studies Among the Posts
Rodger Cunningham.....377

Selected Papers from the 2003 ASA Conference

Square Dance Calling: The African-American Connection
Philip A. Jamison.....387

In Retrospect—Albert Stewart
Barbara Smith.....399

Epistolary Exchanges: The Personal and Poetic Journey of Jeff Daniel Marion in Letters Home Marianne Worthington .....	406
Tradition and Travesty in JT LeRoy's Sarah and The Heart Is Deceitful Above All Things Woody Wilson .....	415
From Timbering to Tourism: The Wonderland Hotel's Early Years Mary Fanslow .....	433
Reviews .....	450
Sodom Laurel Again: A Response to Malcolm Wilson and Other Reviewers of Sodom Laurel Album by David E. Whisnant
Fiction and Poetry
Azrael on the Mountain by Victor Depta, reviewed by Jeff Mann
Divining by Pauletta Hansel, reviewed by Edwina Pendarvis
The Heart is Deceitful Above All Things by JT LeRoy, reviewed by Jeff Mann
Hollow Ground by Stephen Marion, reviewed by Anita J. Turpin
Shady Grove by Janice Holt Giles, reviewed by Anna Shannon Elfenbein
Nonfiction
Appalachia: A History by John Alexander Williams, reviewed by Brooks Blevins
Crossing Troublesome: 25 Years of the Appalachian Writers Workshop edited by Leatha Kendrick & George Ella Lyon, reviewed by Jennifer Mooney
Fiddling Way Out Yonder: The Life and Music of Melvin Wine by Drew Beisswenger, reviewed by Paul F. Wells
John Fox, Jr., Appalachian Author by Bill York, reviewed by Rodger Cunningham
Living in the Appalachian Forest: True Tales of Sustainable Forestry by Chris Bolgiano, reviewed by Lynne Faltraco
Mama Learned Us To Work: Farm Women in the New South by Lu Ann Jones, reviewed by Kat D. Williams
Sound Wormy: Memoir of Andrew Gennett, Lumberman edited by Nicole Hayler, forward & afterword by John Alger, reviewed by Ronald Lewis
Strikebreaking and Intimidation: Mercenaries and Masculinity in Twentieth-Century America by Steven H. Norwood, reviewed by Richard P. Mulcahy
Transnational West Virginia: Ethnic Communities and Economic Change 1840 - 1940 edited by Ken Fones-Wolf, Ronald L. Lewis, reviewed by Robert Weise
Which Side Are You On? The Harlan County Coal Miners, 1931 - 39 by John W. Hevener, reviewed by Stephen D. Mooney
Women, Power, and Dissent in the Hills of Carolina by Mary K. Anglin, reviewed by Barbara Ellen Smith
Writers and Miners: Activism and Imagery in America by David C. Duke, reviewed by John Lang
Yellow Steel: The Story of the Earthmoving Equipment Industry by William R. Haycraft, reviewed by David L. Rouse	